THE CORONATION.

ROUTE OF PROCESSION.

MAGNIFICENT NAVAL REVIEW.

LONDON, Jan. 14. The route of the procession of the King and Queen on June 23, following Coronation Day, will include Piccadilly, Fleet-street, the Mansion House, Borough-road, and Westminster Bridge—in all seven miles.

There will also be a review at Spithead, when the most powerful fleet ever got together will be assembled.

DOMINIONS' REPRESENTATIVES.

PARTICIPATORS IN CEREMONY.

A HAPPY SUGGESTION.

LONDON, Jan. 15. A newspaper has offered the suggestion that representatives of the colonies should be invited to become co-honourers at the actual coronation ceremony.

The High Commissioner of the Dominions and the Agents-General of the Colonies, and colonies, who have been interviewed on the matter, agree that should the King take the initiative in enabling such representatives to take part in the manner proposed, his act would be hailed with unbounded enthusiasm throughout the overseas dominions.

CANADIAN LEGISLATORS.

A HOUSE OF LEGISLATORS.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14. Members of the Canadian House of Commons favour the entire House attending the coronation. The suggestion made that legislators from the Dominion should be invited to the coronation ceremony is being discussed.

NOTES IN BEEF.

REPORT TO BRITISH AUTHORITIES.

RENDER MEAT UNSOUND.

LONDON, Jan. 14. Reporting to the Local Government Board, Dr. Robert Leiper says that parasites in beef are not without exception due to worms of the genus Oncophora. The diseased condition is not peculiar to Australia, but is found in other animals in various parts of the world, including the United States.

The parasites belong to a group of worms that require to be taken up by a biting insect, and to undergo a certain degree of development therein before they can be transmitted to another warm-blooded animal. They appear to be more numerous in the muscles of the neck and head of the animal, and there is no evidence of the vitality of the worm or embryo found in Australian beef here. Therefore, the direct development of the parasite in man as the result of eating affected meat is impossible.

As the parasites are not the product of change taking place in the tissues, and result from some acid toxin excreted by worms, their presence in meat intended for human consumption is therefore undesirable, and the meat must be classed as unsound.

The Morning Post has interviewed Sir John Robinson, Agent-General for Queensland, and Captain Collins, secretary to the Local Commissioner, who point out that effective steps are taken in Australia to remove bristles and flanks before shipment.

At the Science Congress a paper was read before the Biological Section by Professor J. A. Gilchrist and Dr. George R. S. Cross, of Melbourne University Veterinary Research Institute, entitled "Contributions to the study of the life history of the parasite of the cattle of Australia, Oncophora (Gibson, Cleland and Johnston, 1910)." The authors pointed out that "worms" have been known in Queensland for over 40 years, though it was only during the last two years that they had assumed any commercial importance. The study of the parasite, which is a small, white, thread-like worm, is of great importance to the cattle industry, as it is a common cause of disease in the young of the animal, and is also a source of annoyance to the farmer.
